SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA—The curative properties of Sarsaparilla, in cases of acute and chronic Rheumatism, have only recently been observed and acknowledged. It was long thought that preparations of the root could only be used successfully in Scrofula and diseases of that sort; but the highly beneficial effects which have resulted from administering Sands's Sarsaparilla, in the most inveterate cases of Rheumatism, have completely exploded that idea. Colicium was for a time considered a specific for this disease; but it has been demonstrated that this medicine, in many instances, causes the Metastasis, or translation of the complaint to the heart. It is the direct tendency of this preparation to prevent this fatal result, by cleansing the blood from all impurities, through which alone disease can be conveyed to the seat of life.

GLORIOUS OLD JERSEY!

DEATH OF TYLERISM AND TOADYISM. CAPT. BOBADIL STOCKTON'S BIG GUN BURSTED—THE JERSEY BLUES CAN'T BE BOUGHT.

The cheering intelligence from the battle fields of the Revolution, show that they, now as then, are beyond the corrupting influence of British gold; indignantly they scorned Stockton's unwarrantable interference, and gave the LIE to his boast that he could control her freemen with his money. A more glorious victory, won over such fearful odds, the annals of party warfare does not record.
